

Own the Workflow

Take Control of State & Local Capital Programs

Finally, a construction project management platform built for state and local agencies.

From education to DOT to public works, state and local agencies manage capital programs across many project types. Kahua brings those programs together with clear visibility and reporting that supports stronger oversight.

Whether you're managing major infrastructure projects or handling routine upgrades and maintenance, you can track every project, dollar, and decision in one place.

Kahua is purpose-built for agencies managing complex capital programs.

Document Management

Keep project records organized in the same platform where the work is managed, to improve coordination across teams.

- Manage drawings and RFIs between internal teams and external partners
- Maintain clear document control and traceability
- Route approvals through structured workflows with DocuSign integration

Analytics

Turn your project and financial data into executive-ready reporting that helps agencies answer leadership, board, and stakeholder questions with confidence.

- Build dashboards with accurate, real-time data
- Reduce manual reporting and rework
- Improve visibility into costs, risks, and progress

Configurability

Structure workflows, reporting, and project hierarchies in the platform to match how your capital programs actually operate.

- Organize by program, region, department, or other designation
- Adjust workflows and configuration as program needs change
- Connect project data with finance, ERP, and analytics systems

Cost Management

Go beyond invoices to track budgets, commitments, forecasts, and capital plans — so leaders and taxpayers know where the money is going.

- Track budgets, commitments, and changes across projects
- Increase forecasting accuracy across the portfolio
- Strengthen long-range capital planning and budget decisions

Funding Sources

Coordinate capital funding from grants, bonds, appropriations, and other sources, so your team maintains clear oversight of how funds are used.

- Track budgets with multiple funding sources and different release dates
- Manage funding distribution across programs and projects
- Simplify reporting for executives, boards, and funding agencies
